Unbelievable! This Vollmond™ 24-jewel automatic watch never needs winding or batteries, is layered in 18K gold and priced under $80!

A stunning and accurate watch that you'll never wind, but it will certainly turn heads! In 18th century England, Nicolas Fatio discovered a technique for drilling rubies for use in watch making. As the second hardest jewel on earth, these rubies provided long wear and precision accuracy that made the jeweled movement the finest – and most expensive – in the world! Today Vollmond's advanced technology brings you the benefits of a 24-jewel automatic movement without the high price. Also features textured dial with day, date and sun/moon phase dials, water resistance to 150' and interchangeable black and brown genuine leather bands with gold layered buckles.
